Women in STEM Wiki

Jasmine Vollherbst

ABSTRACT

A wiki containing a database of Women in STEM fields throughout history. The site will be made up of unique posts containing an image, bio, field of study, country of origin, and years active for each entry. Every post can be viewed publicly. Visitors will be able to search the site by entry name, field of study, country of origin, and/or years active. Visitors can sign up to subscribe to a newsletter. Visitors will also have the option to create an account to become an editor. Once an account has been created, users will have the authorization to create, edit, or delete entries.
